Looking for a career in research?

De Montfort University (DMU) is an ambitious, truly globally-minded institution with a strong focus on delivering quality across all aspects of its offer. We achieved a Gold award in the Teaching Excellence Framework (TEF) in 2017 and have just been named the first-ever University of the Year for Social Inclusion in The Sunday Times Good University Guide for 2019.

DMU has also been designated as a Global Hub for Sustainable Development Goal 16 – the first university to be chosen as such. Our new Strategic Plan, which sets out our mission, values and strategic aims over the next five years, has been crafted in line with the United Nations' 17 SDGs, or Global Goals.

Ambitious to build on this position of strength, we are looking for talented new Early Career Academic Fellows (ECAF). The scheme is for outstanding individuals who would like to develop an academic career. These are 'tenure track' positions and, subject to sufficient progress being made during the first year, each ECAF will be appointed to a permanent academic VC2020 lectureship.

Candidates should be at the beginning of their careers and outstanding in their chosen field. They must hold a doctoral degree or exhibit exceptional practice-based experience, with the potential to become a future academic leader. Appointees will focus on establishing an academic profile through participation in appropriate teaching and learning activities, as well as further developing their research profile or practice. They will participate in a mentoring scheme and have access to professional development opportunities.

We are looking for ten individuals this year and are accepting applications in the following research themes: Urban Living, Social Value, Creativity in the Digital Age, Lifelong Wellbeing, Architecture, and Media, Race and Social Justice.

Closing date: 3 December 2018

Application details and interview dates are available from our website dmu.ac.uk/jobs. For an informal discussion, please contact Professor Rusi Jaspal, Pro-Vice Chancellor for Research rjaspal@dmu.ac.uk.
